Overall and final responsibility for health and safety is that of the Managing Director of the Company. The day-to-day responsibility for ensuring this policy is put into practice is a line management duty. Managers are role models and must perform their duties responsibly. To ensure health and safety standards are maintained and improved, the Company has appointed recognised QHSE professionals who are responsible for supporting line management to fulfil their health and safety responsibilities.

All employees and all those working on behalf of the company are required to:

The policy will be communicated to all employees and made available to visitors and the public as well as when requested to suppliers, subcontractors and customers.
